One Day © A DeSouza

One day she'll come as a stranger
Before I take her to be my friend
We'll feel love together
Which will be like heaven and never end

My love for her I shall let ride
And my feeling for her I'll never hide
Then one day she'll say to me
She wants to spend her life with me

Now I know that one day this will be
When she'll want to live me
Together we shall live the world
When one day this day come

I shall never let her alone
Or like a child without a home
And just as sure as summer follows spring
Joy to her I shall always bring

Now I know that one day this will be
When she wants to live with me
Together we shall live the world
When one day this day come

When one day this day come, when one day this day come.....
