

When My Days © R Salagan

When my days are filled with loneliness
I will think of you
When my nights just seem like emptiness
I will dream of you

For my love I cannot hide from you
This love is more than pride it's true
When my dreams become reality
I'll be near to you

Just to say these words so happily
I'm in love with you
For it seems that I have loved and lost
Someone that I knew

But this time I think I know for sure
I'm in love with you
For this time I know it's true
I'm in love with you Mmmm

When My Days credits: words and music by Robert Salagan all instruments and vocals by Robert Salagan except for percussion and recording supervision by René Letarte. This is the original recording of spring 1972 from the Studio Tony Roman, Montreal. Published by Les Éditions Do-Sol enr.
