

She Don't love You Anymore © D Morley-R Salagan

“Well I'm sorry but She don't love you anymore”

These are words that I'm sure you thought would never hear at all
As she climbs into the taxi that you called
She's been twenty years of loving that you wish would never part
As she walks out with her suitcase and your heart

When you stop to think it over, it's too late to understand
What you got to realize is she had another man

When you think of all the feelings that have flowed right from the start
You're so sorry that she don't love you anymore
Oh you're so sorry that she don't love you anymore

Lead.....

And you know she'll make him happy, as she did so with your heart
And for those who thought that your love would never part
I say please don't feel so sorry, just try to understand
He's not sorry that she don't love him anymore
He's not sorry that she don't love him anymore
She's not sorry that she don't love him anymore.

She Don't Love You Anymore credits: words by Deborah Morley and Robert Salagan music by Robert Salagan all instruments and vocals by Robert Salagan. Published by Les Éditions Do-Sol enr.